The Heart/Stroke Recognition Program was launched in 2003. It is a voluntary program, designed to recognize clinicians who use evidence-based measures and provide excellent care to persons with cardiovascular disease (CVD) or who have had a stroke.

The Heart Stroke Recognition Program (HSRP) assesses key quality performance measures that are based on national evidence-based guidelines for secondary prevention of cardiovascular disease and stroke.

Program measures include blood pressure control, cholesterol control, smoking status and cessation advice or treatment, and more.
