Kelcy is looking forward to practicing in the community of Strong and to treating patients from a diverse population. She stated that her philosophy of care “is to treat everyone as family and to help patients to make the most informed decisions regarding their plan of care.”

Kelcy recently relocated to the Franklin County area and will be joining Ann Schwink, DO and Madelyn Besse, PA who provide medical care as well as Alyson Byard, LCSW who offers behavioral health services. 3,600 residents of Avon, New Vineyard, Phillips, and Strong, Farmington and beyond come to the practice for health and oral health services each year.
